

OBJECTIVES MATRIX OF THE EP 6M020200-International Relations

Objective	Key Learning Outcomes	Modules or discipline, study of which form the competences
To prepare competitive Masters of art, capable of organizing and managing the professional activity of employees in solving problems in the field of diplomatic practice or working with international projects, and conducting independently research work in the field of international relations	- to be able to think creatively and use a creative approach to solving new problems and situations, to have skills in research activities and in implementation of research projects and studies in the professional sphere, to be aware of norms and skills in academic writing in English and in preparation of scientific reviews, summaries, drawing up papers and bibliographies within the conducted research, analysis of scientific articles, writing academic texts of various volume and materials concerning the research subject-matter	Compulsory modules: Methodology of master training Elective Modules:
	- to know basic theories and concepts and, character and exploring the content, state and trends of the development of contemporary international relations and to be able to apply these theories for analysis of problems of world politics and international security; - to master modern methods of international relations studying; - be able to independently comprehend the phenomena, processes and problems in contemporary international relations; - to be able to conduct independent scientific research applying research approaches, concepts and methods developed in the sphere of international relations.	Compulsory modules: Elective Modules: Scientific ResearchModule
	- to be able to independently plan, organize and manage processes of preparation and conducting of bilateral and multilateral international negotiations, to develop strategy and tactics of negotiations applying various approaches; - to understand the role of contemporary communication tools in diplomacy and foreign policy, to be able to use them in everyday diplomatic activities, to understand the role of public diplomacy in contemporary world and to be able to use public diplomacy techniques for achieving foreign policy goals of the state.	Compulsory modules: Elective Modules: Practiceof DiplomaticActivities

	- to be able to carry out the complex expertise of international projects in various spheres, to have an idea of the designing of the international projects and to be able to go through all the stages of preparing the project before its implementation, to be able to give it an adequate assessment; - to be able to effectively plan and realize strategies and relations with partners of different levels (representatives of foreign countries, public and private structures, international organizations) and as well as with the members of the team implementing the project, taking into account the nature of the activity and the cultural and ethical characteristic of communication.	Compulsory modules: Elective Modules: Management of International Projects
--	--	--

The sphere of professional activities of the graduate are: diplomacy and foreign policy, international relations, scientific-research and educational sphere.

Competency profile of graduates: graduates of the “International Relations” Master program may work at Ministry of Foreign Affairs, offices for international cooperation in the various ministries, public and private institutions dealing with international issues, as well as international organizations and institutions.